We very much look forward to seeing you for both events.

Katherine Street is directly opposite the Fairfield Halls where you will find Croydon Library on the left side towards the end of the street. The clocktower pinpoints the location. Enter the Library by the second entrance down the steps (disabled access available to your right), through the swing doors and turn left. The exhibition will then be in front of you.

The lunch venue in Altyre Road is some 8-10 minutes walk from the museum. Directions will be available for you at the exhibition.
